COMMUNITY NEWS UPDATE

Message From the President & CEO

CONNECTING, LEARNING, AND MOVING FORWARD TOGETHER

This past quarter has been a season of connection, learning, and celebration at SOURCES. Our Annual General Meeting and Program Managers' Training brought together teams from across the province, reminding us that the heart of our work lies in collaboration — both within our organization and with the communities we serve.

We're especially proud of the recent announcement of Foundry South Surrey-White Rock, a new integrated health and wellness centre for youth made possible through the incredible support of our partners, donors, and community champions. This milestone reflects what we can achieve when we come together with a shared purpose to strengthen lives and build hope.

Thank you to everyone who continues to believe in and support our mission. Your generosity, advocacy, and engagement make our work possible.

2025 ANNUAL GENERAL MEETINGS

On September 23, SOURCES hosted its Annual General Meetings at Hazelmere Golf & Tennis Club. The event, attended by key community partners, donors, supporters, and staff, celebrated another impactful year of service. At his first AGM as President & CEO, David MacIntyre introduced a fresh approach by centering the agenda around staff and the vital programs they deliver. Each Executive Director provided an overview of their respective programs, showcasing the depth and diversity of our work across communities. For the first time, staff from our Parksville and Prince George locations joined the meeting in real time via Teams, further connecting our growing organization across the province. COMING TOGETHER FOR THANKSGIVING IN OCEANSIDE

Our Youth Services, Family Services, Child, Youth, FASD Keyworker, and Counselling teams came together to host a heartfelt Thanksgiving Dinner in Oceanside, Parksville. We welcomed 36 guests across two seatings for a full festive meal from ham and mashed potatoes to pumpkin pie. A big thank you to Sarah Berry, Kristen Oskam, Teya Vega, Brittany Palmer, Kathleen Primeau, Justine Birchell, Raman Sandhu, Heather Atkinson, and Shayna Twamley for making it all possible.

Our Fetal Alcohol Spectrum Disorder (FASD) Keyworker Program hosted a Teen Social Skills Group, to help build communication skills and form new friendships. The team also partnered with Pacific Community Resources Society, Fraser Region Aboriginal Friendship Centre Association, and The Centre for Child Development's Keyworkers to host a Family Event for FASD Awareness Day.

MOMENTS THAT MATTER

Jeanny R, Family Support Worker at our Prince George office, captured a heartwarming moment between a parent and child during a parental visit. As part of the Family Preservation and Reunification team, Jeanny shared how meaningful it is to witness and support such special connections — a reminder of the beautiful moments that define our work every day.
